Purpose and Terms
The purpose of the Carlo Pelliccia Study Fellowship in Italy is to provide funds for a student to spend a period of independent study abroad, primarily located in Rome, Italy. Should unusual circumstances warrant, the recipient might not be required to spend the majority of research time in Rome, but could stay in another locale in Italy upon approval by the selection committee. The fellowship has been established in the memory of Carlo Pelliccia, a dedicated teacher and passionate delineator who added substantially to the character and appetites of this School. The Dean of the School of Architecture will chair and appoint a committee composed of one representative of each department in the School of Architecture for selecting a recipient of the Carlo Pelliccia Fellowship. Faculty and students of the School of Architecture are invited to nominate candidates for consideration and to support the nomination with appropriate documentation.

Eligibility
All graduate students from the School of Architecture and any undergraduate who will have completed their third year of undergraduate studies are eligible. Preference is typically given to graduate students. The student shall have demonstrated a high level of academic attainment, a passion for drawing, shall show promise of professional development, and shall exhibit by her or his past activities and accomplishments a broad range of interests.
